

PRESS RELEASE

Paris, September 23rd, 2021,

Quantology Capital Management, an investment management company specializing in exploiting investor bias in financial markets is pleased to announce that we have:

1. Doubled our assets under management over the past 12 months
2. Recruited a head of sales well known by U.S. based institutional investors
3. Launched several high-return seeking investment solutions

« We continue to invest in human capital, having recently strengthening the sales team with the recruitment of head of sales Frans Harts, a product specialist salesperson with strong ties to institutional investors in North America, where we see a strong appetite for high Sharpe quantitative investment strategies.

In addition to our award-winning low beta high Sharpe quant equity strategy, we have amplified our product offering with the launch of two high-return seeking investment solutions capable of delivering double-digit annual returns.

With these recent positive developments, we strongly believe that the outlook for Quantology Capital Management is very favorable. »

Vincent Fourcaut, CEO of Quantology Capital Management.
